Introduction

The following lists of farms and farmers' markets were compiled to provide business owners and community members with a resource to become more connected with agriculture in their region. Each listing is in a county of the Great Allegheny Passage.

All information, including, but not limited to, contact information is subject to change. Any exclusion or inaccuracy was unintentional. If you have updated information for a farm or market listed, or know of an omission that can be added to a list, please contact the Trail Town Program® at 724-216-9160.

Farms and markets are categorized based on the county in which they are located. Within each county section, the listings are organized alphabetically.

The Trail Town Outreach Corps is a joint project of The Progress Fund and the Student Conservation Association. The program's mission is to foster economic revitalization and sustainable redevelopment in the Trail Towns across western Pennsylvania through minds-on and hands-on community service.

The Trail Town Program® is a project of The Progress Fund working in trailside communities across western Pennsylvania and Maryland. The Program's purpose is to ensure that trail communities and businesses maximize the economic potential of the trail.

More information on both the Trail Town Outreach Corps and the Trail Town Program® can be found at trailtowns.org or by calling 724-216-9160.

Definition of Terms

As with any industry, agriculture has words and phrases that are commonly used to describe products and methods of producing, or raising, said commodities. Here are some of the agricultural terms used throughout these lists and their definitions:

Certified Naturally Grown farmers do not use synthetic herbicides, pesticides, fertilizers, antibiotics, hormones, or genetically modified organisms. Additionally, livestock must have space for movement and be raised mostly on pasture.<sup>1</sup>

Community-supported agriculture (CSA) is essentially a subscription to a farmer's produce. Members buy a share from a farmer at the beginning of the growing season and each week receive a portion of whatever the farmer has harvested.<sup>2</sup>

Free-range animals have been allowed access to the outside.<sup>3</sup>

Grass-fed means the animals have had a diet solely of forage consisting of grass, forbs, browse, or cereal grain crops in the pre-grain state. The only exception is milk fed to the animal while weaning.<sup>4</sup>

Pastured is similar to free-range. However, pastured animals have access to naturally occurring food sources, including insects, grasses and seeds. A movable enclosure may be used to rotate the pasture the animals have access to. This label is not regulated by a governmental or nongovernmental entity, and thus the producer is responsible for using the "pastured" label.<sup>5</sup>

USDA Certified Organic crops are grown without irradiation, sewage sludge, synthetic fertilizers, prohibited pesticides, and genetically modified organisms. Certified livestock producers must meet health and wellness standards, not use growth hormones or antibiotics, feed the livestock with 100% organic feed, and provide animals access to the outdoors.<sup>6</sup>
